

731—2.8(7G) Redistribution grants. Based upon the availability of funds, the ISC may enter into contract with agencies who have existing grant programs. The purpose of redistributing ISC funds through such agencies, who have the administrative process and expertise in place to facilitate and monitor competitive grant programs, is to implement projects which seek to further the ISC mission statement and have statewide impact.

2.8(1) Eligibility. Agencies that have a competitive grant program in place, which furthers the ISC mission statement, are eligible to submit proposals to the ISC for redistribution of sesquicentennial funds.

2.8(2) Notice. The ISC shall issue a biannual public notice that identifies the availability of funds and grant request process.

2.8(3) Requirements. The following shall be included in all grant redistribution proposals:

- a. Name and address of agency.
- b. Contact person and telephone number.
- c. Mission statement of the organization.
- d. Detail of the competitive grant program.
- e. Explanation of how the program furthers the ISC mission statement.
- f. Amount of funds requested.
- g. Expected dates of fund redistribution.
- h. Date when ISC can expect a final report on the redistribution.

2.8(4) Review. The following review criteria shall be applied to all grant redistribution proposals:

- a. Extent the project fulfills ISC mission statement;
- b. The statewide impact the project serves.

The ISC may continually receive grant redistribution proposals and facilitate review at least biannually. All grant redistribution proposals shall be received by the ISC staff for technical review, followed by a written summary to the appropriate committee of the ISC. The committee shall review all requests and make recommendations to the full ISC for action.

2.8(5) Reporting. Agencies shall report to the ISC on a quarterly basis the dispensation of sesquicentennial funds. In addition, agencies shall provide, for subsequent review, any addition or alteration to the grant program. Agencies must acknowledge to grant recipients that funds distributed are sesquicentennial funds.
